Soviet Union is Certain to Consider Treaties Dead When Pact is Signed

By Eddie Gilmore

MOSCOW, April 1.—(AP)—The Soviet Union is virtually certain to consider her treaties with Britain and France dead upon the signing of the North Atlantic Security Alliance, informed sources said today.

The Russians denounced the pact today, calling it an offensive instrument aimed at striking fear into nations which refused to accept world domination by the British and Americans. The Soviet memorandum to the seven original sponsors of the Atlantic pact said the treaty undermines the "very foundations" of the United Nations and violates international agreements.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—A top state department official suggested today that the Russians need not worry about the North Atlantic treaty; all they have to do is not attack any member nation.

This official, who declined to be identified by name, reasserted the American government's position that the treaty is purely defensive. He said that any nation which has any doubts about it can fully protect itself by refraining from attack on any of the member countries.

This informal reaction to Russia's protest against the alliance came as plans were ahead for the formal signing of the treaty on Monday. It was clear that the new Soviet blast was not disturbing those plans in any way.

(The British foreign office rejected any suggestion by Russia that the Atlantic treaty violates either the U. N. charter or the British-Russian friendship treaty.) When the Soviet foreign minister originally denounced the Atlantic alliance early this year, diplomats took the view that the 20-year treaties signed by France and Britain with Russia during the war were in jeopardy.

Point Raised by Russians

The Russians now have raised just this point: That clauses in both treaties stipulate that neither party shall join alliances directed against the other.

Russia says specifically that the Atlantic Alliance is directed against the Soviet Union. If this is considered by Russia to be the case, she would deem it as a violation of the clauses in the two 20-year treaties.

At the time of the first Soviet declaration against the Atlantic alliance, both the French and the British embassies here messaged their capitals that the treaties might be regarded as invalid.

The Soviet note to the originators of the Atlantic pact said it is "directed against the Soviet Union" is "openly aggressive" in character.

Nothing in Common

It has "nothing in common either with the tasks of self-defense of the parties to the treaty or with the real recognition of the aims and principles of the United Nations."

'Jack' Ives Dies In the Crash Of Airplane

Young Man From Mora is Killed At Vallejo, Calif.

"Jack" Kenneth Ives, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Ives of Mora, Mo., was killed at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon near Vallejo, Calif., in the crash of an airplane according to a message received by his parents Thursday.

The body will arrive in Kansas City Saturday morning via TWA plane. Renz hearse of Cole Camp will meet the plane and take the body to the home of his parents where funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The body will then be taken to Rofe, Ia., Sunday night where funeral services will be held again at the Presbyterian church in Rofe at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Burial in Iowa

Interment will be made in the Rofe cemetery.

Ives moved with his parents from Rofe, Iowa, to their present home in 1941. He attended the Smith-Cotton high school for two years and was honor student at the Smith-Cotton high school from which he was graduated in 1945. He enlisted in the United States navy in 1945 and received an honorable discharge after one year of service.

After receiving his discharge from the Navy, he worked in Kansas City until April, 1947, when he went to Fairbanks, Alaska, on an airbase construction job. He returned to the home of his parents in November and remained there until April, 1948, when he went to Nome, Alaska, on another construction project. He moved from Alaska to Vallejo, Calif., last August where he has been employed and has been taking flight training for crop dusting under the GI Bill of Rights.

Survivors

He is survived by his parents, four sisters, Mrs. Marjorie Lund, wife of Wayne Lund of Ames, Iowa; June Ives, who is in navy service in the WAVES stationed at Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Dorothy Green, wife of W. J. Green of Mora and Miss Joyce Ives of the home; five brothers, Allen of Mallow, Iowa; Roger of Rofe, Iowa; Thomas, Mora, Leonard and Burton of the home.

One sister preceded him in death, having died in infancy.

Number Unemployed Dropped in March

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The number of unemployed dropped 54,000 in March after rising during each of the four previous months, the census bureau reported today.

Simultaneously, the number of employed increased 479,000 in March. This checked a two-month decline in the number of people holding jobs.

These apparently favorable developments were explained by the bureau in these words:

"A seasonal expansion in employment in agriculture and some other industries apparently counterbalanced the effect of further layoffs in other sectors of the economy."

Child Conscious For Two Days After Bullet Pierces Brain

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 1.—(AP)—A curly-haired, three-year-old girl never lost consciousness for nearly two days after a .38-caliber bullet pierced her brain and lodged in her skull.

The story came out today as University hospital surgeons removed the slug from little Judith Crab.

After the delicate operation her condition was described as excellent. "She behaved swell," he said. "She didn't even realize the seriousness of it."

Gloomy Signs For Last Half Of Year 1949

Survey Shows Outback Outlays In Final Months

By Charles Molony

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—A survey of business spending plans today posted some fairly gloomy signs for the last half of 1949. However, government economists said that this index—which has forecast economic busts in the past—is risking its reputation for accuracy.

The collective bet of American businessmen on the future was posted in their plans for spending on new factories and equipment. Clearly, they figure that things are going to be sliding down through the final months of the year.

The survey, by two government agencies, pointed to business' decision to cutback outlays in last-half 1949 by 14 per cent under last year. The theory is that prospects for profit would be poorer.

Equipment Buying Above First-half 1949 factory and equipment buying, however, will run five per cent above the same period of 1948's record high—at least partly because of a lot of plant construction that couldn't be halted on short notice.

While businessmen's expectations have correctly given advance signals on economic storms in the past, government economists said they'll bear discounting this time for such reasons as these:

1. Government spending—state and local, as well as federal—will increase sharply. It will more than offset the indicated $900,000,000 drop in business spending for 1949 as a whole.

2. Businessmen probably will spend more on plant expansion in last-half 1949 than they admitted in the survey. Past experience shows they're conservative and cagey on future spending, prone to underestimate.

How It Works

The "business bet" on the future, however, not only serves to indicate what's coming. It also has a part in inclining the future to fit its forecast. This is how:

The billions spent by private business on expansion represents money that would otherwise be idle. It goes for materials and even more importantly for labor that wouldn't otherwise be "marketed."

Also, it works with a strong "multiplier effect." The dollar it introduces into circulation when it pays a worker gets re-spent fast—again and again—jumping the national income.

In fact, business spending is one of the four big props under prosperity. In turning down this time, it's following two of the others, consumer (retail) spending and net foreign spending on American goods.

That, say the government economists, leaves just one of the big four items in national income and national product on the upswing: Government spending.

Freight Train Cars Pile up

FESTUS, Mo., April 1.—(AP)—A derailed left 36 cars of a Frisco freight train piled up in a mass of twisted steel and splintered wood ten miles south of here yesterday.

No one was injured. The railroad said extent of the damage had not been determined but was "severe." Three hundred feet of main line track was torn up.

A spokesman at Frisco headquarters in St. Louis attributed the wreck to a faulty wheel flange on the ninth car behind the Diesel locomotive. This car was the first to leave the tracks, and the others piled up behind it. The locomotive and 43 other cars remained on the tracks.

The long freight, bound from Memphis, Tenn., to St. Louis, carried a miscellaneous cargo, including oil, scrap iron, lumber and paper bags.

The mishap tied up all traffic on the route. Wrecking crews expected to clear the line by about 6 p. m. today. Trains were rerouted over Illinois Central tracks in Illinois.

Liquor License Suspended

JEFFERSON CITY, April 1.—(AP)—Edmund Burke, state liquor control supervisor, today suspended the beer license of the Moon-Glo club near Mexico, Mo., for 15 days.

Mrs. Grace Hubert Fry, operator of the tavern, was charged with selling beer to minors. At a hearing here Wednesday Burke warned her to make sure no beer is sold to the teen-agers who frequent the place.

At Gordonville, Mich. The gun discharged, the bullet entering her forehead and lodging in the back of the skull.

Dr. Webb Towles of Midland x-rayed her at the hospital there. "She behaved swell," he said. "She didn't even realize the seriousness of it."

Doctors at University hospital were mystified. "I can't explain why more damage wasn't done," said one. A slug of that size usually would explode the skull, he added.

Wonderful Letters to Woman Who Has Only a Year to Live

By William Pearl

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 1.—(AP)—The right answer hasn't come—yet.

"But all these wonderful letters give me hope," Mrs. Heart said today. "They make me feel better. But they still don't have the answer I need."

Mrs. Heart?

She is a moderately wealthy widow—51 and unidentified—who has only a year to live.

And the letters?

They are from a sensitive nation answering her honest appeal.

"How can I spend $10.00 to get the most enjoyment out of my one remaining year of life?"

"I would not try to live 51 years in only one," a person wrote her at the Daily Oklahoman—which published her story yesterday morning—"relax, take your time, enjoy yourself in any and every way possible. Make and keep friends."

Prompt Response

There was a prompt response to Mrs. Heart's request. Letters, telegrams and telephone calls tumbled into the newspaper office from coast-to-coast in astonishing heaps. National radio networks made futile requests for interviews. The Oklahoman is pledged to keep her identity secret.

Few persons have offered to help Mrs. Heart spend the $10,000 she's rationed herself for the next twelve—and probably final—months. Most of their answers were as sincere as her plea.

"I never dreamed so many people would be so interested in my problem," she said.

Some Suggestions

One woman told her to "pay no attention to doctors." Many suggested financial aid to underprivileged and to the handicapped. Others thought prayer the only answer.

She refuses to seek medical aid which might cure her heart condition.

"You wouldn't have any fun," she said, "and you'd probably die anyway."

Mrs. Heart says she never learned to enjoy the sizable estate she built—through her business—after her husband died.

That's why now, with only a daughter living in California provided for and her life almost spent, she makes this earnest plea.

"I want to use this $10,000 on myself, to get what I can out of life. Maybe I'm selfish but I want to spend it on myself now. I want to have a certain plan. But I don't know how to spend it."

"And I need to know how."

He's a Little Behind With Correspondence

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Quit worrying about being behind in your correspondence. You're probably a whiz compared with this Missourian.

"In reference to your letter dated January 31, 1931," began a letter received by Rep. Moulder (D-Mo.).

Addressed to Rep. Nelson (D-Mo.), a former congressman now dead, it was written March 26, 1949, by a World War I veteran who asked that something be done to expedite his case with the Veterans Bureau.

Moulder said he'd do his best, but "due to the fact there has been some delay" he asked that the veteran's claim number be given to help him identify the case.

In his district is one city of 75,000 inhabitants, one of 20,000 and several of from 2,000 to 8,000, he said.

But even if there were no towns in his district, he added, "we would be interested in this measure because we are part of this great country."

The rent control bill finally adopted, he said, is designed to give "equal consideration to landlord and tenant."

Easter Egg Roll Called Off WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The once traditional White House Easter egg roll has been called off again for the eighth consecutive time.

Doing Business Today Under New Rent Law

Officials Believe It May End Federal Rent Regulation

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Landlords and tenants began doing business today under a new 15-month rent law which many officials believe will mark the end of federal rent regulation.

As a starter, housing expediter Tighe Woods plunged into the paperwork which will remove rent ceilings from all or part of 100 rent ceiling areas over the country. The first batch of these decontrols is due this week-end.

Rent officials are working nights, also, to write regulations putting the new law into practice. A stream of new rules is expected. But several weeks will be required to fix standards under which landlords may seek rent boosts giving them a "fair net operating income."

Some top housing officials believe that peacetime federal rent control will die on June 30, 1950, when the new law expires.

May Open Up New Areas

The "home rule" reconrol provisions, under which cities, counties and villages may throw off federal control if the state governor approves, are believed likely to open up wide control-free areas as communities gradually overcome their housing shortages.

At least one governor, James (Big Jim) Folsom of Alabama, has made it plain he will support any move by the state legislature for statewide decontrol. This also is permitted by the new law.

The stubborn housing shortage in big industrial centers leads some officials to predict that many major cities will wish to keep controls beyond the expiration date.

But even the hardest advocates of federal control believe it may be next to impossible to get another act through Congress in 1950, and a few states have "standby" laws for use when federal ceilings end.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said the prospect is that the United States government will spend more than its income. He said this country "is proposing to take money out of a deficit" to help England, which has a budget surplus.

Small tornadoes hit areas in southwestern Pennsylvania and northwestern Florida yesterday. At Uniontown, Pa., three persons were injured by the twister which caused property damage estimated at from $150,000 to $200,000. One person was injured when tornado winds swept Niceville, Fla. One house was wrecked and three others damaged.

War Not Inevitable Winston Churchill Announces to World

Important Events In World News

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The Hoover Commission today asked congress to put the government out of the money-losing business and eliminate 30 federal agencies by merger or liquidation.

The group's report on "Federal Business Enterprises" was so snarled by dissenting opinions that on one subject—public power—it could offer no recommendation which had majority support.

But a majority urged that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the big source of federal credit in war and depression, be reorganized into a mere guarantor of private bank loans.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Congressional leaders agreed today with Winston Churchill that world peace now hangs on continued possession of the atomic bomb secret by this country.

Churchill's speech in Boston last night, praising the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic pact and unity among free peoples, produced the expected reaction in congress.

In general, the lawmakers who support such foreign policy moves expressed their approval. But there also were critics—led by Senator Langer (R-ND), who carried on a bitter attack on the wartime British Prime Minister on the Senate floor yesterday.

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Union taxi drivers struck today, virtually clearing city streets of taxicabs.

Declares Only Atomic Bomb Prevented the Communizing of Europe by Reds

By Cornelius F. Hurley

BOSTON, April 1.—(AP)—Doughty old Winston Churchill thrust out his bulldog jaw, and told the world that:

"Europe would have been communized—like Czechoslovakia—and London under bombardment some time ago but for the deterrent of the atomic bomb in the hands of the United States."

But, he said, "war is not inevitable."

Speaking of the "war of nerves" he advised the Massachusetts Institute of Technology mid-century convocation last night:

"If we persevere steadfastly together, and allow no appearance of tyranny and wrong-doing in any form, it may not be our nerve or the structure of our civilization which will break—something else will break, and peace may yet be preserved."

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—The state department's "Voice of America" today broadcast to all points of the globe a summary of Winston Churchill's speech at Boston last night.

The summary was included in the regular newscasts and included quotations from the address. It consisted of about 600 words, translated into 10 languages, and started with Churchill's statement that the Russian Soviet government fears "the friendship of the west more than its hostility."

Reaction Slow Reaction from abroad was slow, but the first British newspapers to comment called the speech a "recipe for peace" and "remarkable."

These comments came from three conservative British newspapers, the Yorkshire Post, the London Daily Mail, and the Daily Telegraph.

In a letter expressing his regret at being unable to fulfill his own engagement to speak tonight at the convocation, President Truman said:

"Mr. Churchill, I'm sure, will give you something that will be historic for this year."

Harold E. Stassen replaces the president as tonight's speaker. Churchill rolled out in sonorous tones a blunt accusation that "Thirteen men in the Kremlin x x aiming at the rule of the world" had "self-preservation" as the root of their "sinister and malignant policy."

Repeating the phrase, "Thirteen men in the Kremlin," Churchill said their "missionaries are in every country as a fifth column, awaiting the day when they hope to be the absolute masters of their fellow-countrymen and pay off old scores."

Churchill said that the western world was "now confronted with something quite as wicked, but in some ways more formidable than Hitler x x x."

Churchill repeatedly asserted that "We have no hostility to the Russian people, adding: "We seek nothing from Russia but good will and fair play."

How Jet Planes Work

Protecting 'Flame Buggies' Pilots

By James J. Stregib
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON — Sitting boldly in a chair hung at the front of his machine, wearing goggles, helmet and puttees, the "bird boy" of 40 years ago rattled into the blue at 50 or 60 miles an hour. His instrument panel was a strip of cloth fluttering from a crossbar.

His grandson, smart in a light coverall, hip microphone, headphones, oxygen mask, crash helmet, parachute, life raft and Mae West, climbs casually into a metal shell, straps himself across the hips to a cannon seat charged with gunpowder.

Surrounding him are Mach meters, temperature gauges, dials, tachometers and a mess of gear to indicate direction, rate of climb or descent, altitude and G-forces. Even so, the young man feels pretty well off compared with his cousin in the propeller plane, which has twice as many gadgets, a lot more noise and vibration and something called torque (the tendency of the plane to twist in the direction opposite that of the propeller.)

The jet pilot has to be good, but he knows his flight will be short. None of those eight hour missions the boys flew in fighters during World War II—not in any present jet plane anyway.

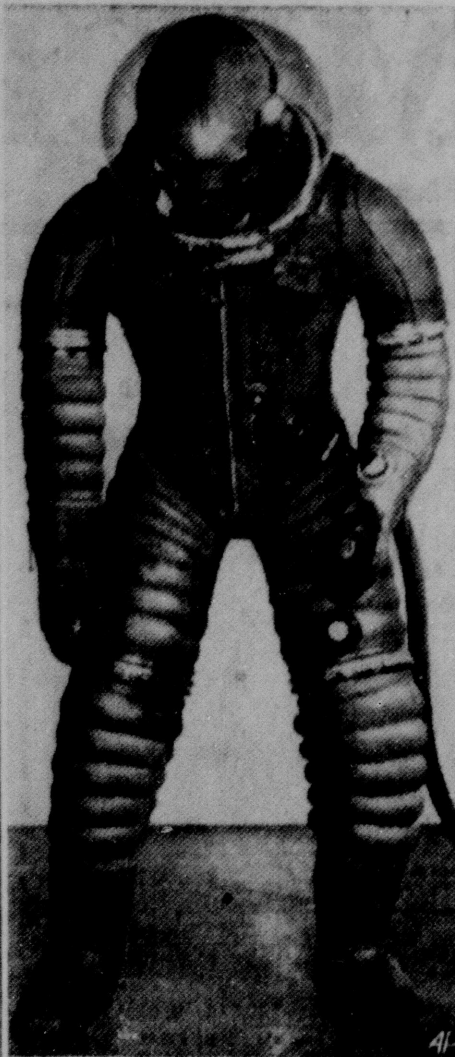

The jet plane gets there fast, so fast that it creates a good many problems for the pilot. He has to be cooled off by refrigerated air while flying in temperatures more than 60 degrees below zero. The heat comes from air friction. Test planes already are at the 1,000-mile-an-hour mark; combat types are in the 700-mile-an-hour class. At three times the speed of sound or about 2,000 miles an hour, steel will glow red (about 1,100 degrees Fahrenheit) because of air friction.

High speeds mean high gust loads of air bumps when the jet plane encounters even minor turbulence. The pilot must be protected from such bumps. That is why he wears both lap and shoulder harness and a well padded helmet.

For all his gear, he must be able to make a quick escape if trouble comes. The pilot cannot just step out into the thin, cold stratosphere when his flame buggy goes haywire at 600 per. If he could get out without being thrown by the air blast against some part of the plane, he still would have to worry about cold and lack of oxygen.

Two general methods of making an emergency exit are being developed. In one the seat is shot out on rails pointed upward and rearward after the canopy is blown off. In the other the entire cockpit is built as a capsule which can be detached to fall free. The pilot leaves the capsule a safe distance from the ground.

Terrific forces are encountered in high speed turns. They push the pilot into his seat, force blood from his head, tend to cause "blackout." The common way to meet that problem is with the "G" suit, a snug, inflatable garment that tightens about the lower portion of the body as the "G" or centrifugal force increased.

Another way being tested is to have the pilot fly lying down. The loads resulting from rough air and sharp turns are thus distributed more evenly over the body.

This calls for fingertip controls. Large and fast planes with conventional controls have "boosters" to help the pilot move them. The

Kaiser... new price $1995*
now world's lowest-priced big car

Our policy on prices

"It has always been our goal to put a bigger, better automobile within reach of more people. To that end, we have bought the huge factory at Willow Run, and have a great engine plant in Detroit. In Cleveland, we have acquired the world's largest blast furnace for the making of steel. Our engineering-production team and our vast dealer organization have worked overtime to reduce manufacturing and distribution costs. In line with the settled policy of our Corporation, we are giving substantial savings to the public in the form of greatly reduced prices... even sooner than we expected. Now, almost any American family can own a really big, fine car!"

County Jail Has New Look

The county jail has a new look of cleanliness and an inner decorative color scheme throughout the living quarters.

Soon after Mrs. Resa Woolery moved in with her husband, Mr. Clark Woolery, who is the jailer, last January, she remarked to county officials that the jail was a mess, and it needed painting and wallpapering.

She was granted permission by the county court to re-decorate and she is now putting the finishing touches to her work. All the rooms have a new coat of paint and the walls are covered with new paper.

Every Wednesday is visitors' day here, Mrs. Woolery said, and they are very much welcomed because one in jail really needs a friend to visit him.

The old desk, tables and chairs left at the jail when she moved in have been covered with new varnish, too, besides various pieces of furniture of the Woolery's which were damaged when their home caught fire last December.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Now that James Forrestal is out as secretary of national defense, the story can be told of one of his last sessions with Truman and the man who was to take his place—Louis Johnson.

Though Forrestal had put up a tough fight against the appearance of being ousted from his job, he saw the handwriting on the wall and asked only that there be a gradual change-over from him to his successor. He wanted this to take place May 1, but at a luncheon with the president and Louis Johnson, he bowed to Truman's wish that it be April 1.

Furthermore, Forrestal volunteered to help Johnson in taking over the defense job and immediately placed important secret intelligence at his disposal.

At this luncheon meeting, it was agreed on the date when Johnson's appointment would be announced, and Johnson declared that until that time he was going to leave town.

"I don't want to be accused of leaking this news," he said. "And it's already begun to leak." He looked meaningfully at the other two.

"There's been no leak from me," declared Truman.

"May one cross-examine the president of the United States?" asked Johnson.

The president smiled and Johnson proceeded to do so.

"Didn't you tell General Eisenhower about this?" he asked.

"Oh, yes," admitted Truman, "but he won't tell a soul."

"And did you tell Senator Tydings?" asked Forrestal.

"Yes, I forgot about that," acknowledged the president. "But Tydings won't leak."

"Yeah?" said the new secretary of defense. "Well, it's leaking already. And that's why I'm leaving town."

Michigan Scandals

If the justice department ever quits sitting on its hands and takes a real look at the Michigan political contributions, it will uncover some of the juiciest scandals in the USA. Furthermore, it will get to the bottom of the manner in which a lot of political money has been raised in this country.

The justice department has fuddy-duddied round with a semi-investigation, but the U. S. district attorneys in Michigan have been half scared of the big Michigan auto interests, while higher-ups in the justice department have been busy chasing spies and running off in other directions.

Meanwhile, Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Senate campaign investigating committee, has had some efficient probers busy in Michigan, and they have dug up evidence of widespread violation of the corrupt practices act. Among other things they have found:

A cashier's check, Feb. 24, 1948, by the Barclay Dwyer corporation, a Detroit Ford dealer, for $750 to the Wayne county Republican finance committee.

Also a contribution by the Park Motor Sales company, a Lincoln-Mercury dealer in Detroit, for $750, on Feb. 11, 1948, to the Wayne county Republican committee.

Also $953 to the same committee on March 12, 1948, by the Floyd Rice Sales & Service Co., another Ford dealer in Detroit.

Not only are these contributions a violation of the corrupt practices act, but senate investigators are interested in ascertaining what connection there was between certain large gifts to the Republican machine and the non-payment of sales taxes by certain auto dealers. Michigan raised a terrific wad of dough for the GOP. What did the Michigan auto people get in return for their money?

Capital News Capsules

Tito Wants Help—This may be denied, but Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has appealed to the United States for American artillery, communications equipment and spare parts for his air force. Tito has told the American embassy in Belgrade he fears a Soviet pincer attack on Yugoslavia from Albania and Bulgaria where the Russians are concentrating military forces. . . . The U. S. embassy has passed along Tito's urgent request—with the postscript that it has ironclad evidence that an average of two Russian ships each day have unloaded military equipment at the Albanian port of Durazzo for the past three weeks.

Temperamental Monty—Field Marshal Montgomery will not remain in command of Allied troops under the North Atlantic defense pact. The French—and some others—don't like him. Also the joint chiefs of staff of the western nations have already signed a secret agreement that the chairmanship of their military staff will be rotated as long as war doesn't threaten. However, as soon as war does threaten, an American will be named to head the combined chiefs in place of Montgomery.

Diminishing Communists—The American ambassador to Italy, James Dunn, has just sent a confidential cable to the state department reporting that thanks to the Friendship Train, the Marshall plan, etc., Italian Communist membership has dropped from more than 2,000,000 to less than 1,500,000.

Far Eastern Tensionbox—Secretary of State Acheson has sent secret instructions to all American diplomats in the Far East telling them to be extra careful to avoid any action which might be interpreted as an insult to the yellow race. . . . Conditions throughout the Far East are so tense that Acheson fears some isolated incident might touch off a disastrous race riot. . . . The tense situation is partly because of Communist propaganda, partly because of western blunders such as the Dutch attack on Indonesia. Communists have been hammering away at the theme that the white men from the west are trying to keep them in a backward state in order to exploit them. . . . Acheson wants American diplomats to expose the Russian propaganda line when they can, but above all to be careful in all behavior.

Labor-Leader Ambassadors—The state department has decided to shake up the diplomatic corps by naming some U. S. labor leaders to diplomatic posts. One of the first to be considered is Clint Golden, capable CIO official now working as adviser to the economic cooperation administration. Golden heads the list of candidates for the job of American ambassador to Norway.

Five Lose Lives in Crash of Plane

LONDON, Ont., April 1.—(P)—Chemical magnate Willard H. Dow, his wife and three other persons crashed to their deaths in a plane Thursday on a storm-soaked Canadian meadow.

The 52-year-old president of the sprawling Dow Chemical Co., one of the world's largest, was flying with his party to attend a gathering in Boston, Mass.

Struck by a lashing rain, the pilot apparently was trying for an emergency landing in a field a mile from the London airport. The plane hit a knoll, bounced and crashed. Within seconds it was aflame.

Dr. Dow, Mrs. Martha Dow, 51; Mrs. Alta Campbell, 44; pilot A. J. Bowie, and co-pilot Fred Clements, all of Midland, Mich., were believed killed instantly.

The only survivor was Mrs. Campbell's husband, Calvin, head of Dow's legal department at the company's headquarters in Midland. He was treated in a London hospital for back injuries.

Bowie, a 38-year-old veteran of the airways and a company pilot, was believed at the controls at the time of the crash. The two-motored company plane had taken off from an airport near Midland at 9 a. m. and was heading due east over Canada. At 10:55 a. m. it crashed.

The internationally known chemist was planning to attend the mid-century convocation tonight of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His son, Herbert H. Dow, the second, is a student at M. I. T.

Sends More Cash To Pay on Debts

NEW YORK, April 1.—(P)—A bank official missing since Sunday has sent more than $76,000 in cash to friends and banks here to pay debts police disclosed Thursday.

The day after the banker, Richard Crowe, 41, disappeared from his Staten Island home, the National City Bank discovered that $88,600 was missing from its 195 Broadway branch. Crowe was assistant manager.

Simultaneously, the banker's wife revealed that he wrote her from Florida that "I feel everyone will be better off without me."

The FBI said charges of violating two sections of the Federal Reserve Act pertaining to embezzlement of National Bank funds have been filed against Crowe.

Receipt of the letter seemed to have narrowed down to Florida in a 13-state hunt for the handsome, popular banker. The FBI, which would say nothing about the case, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan has said that the disappearance of the funds might prove to be the biggest theft of its kind in Manhattan history.

(P)—Morris O. Jordan, 25, Grand Pass, Mo., farmer, was instantly killed Thursday in an auto-truck collision on highway 24 near Dover, Mo.

Jordan's car collided with a truck-trailer driven by Otto Woolery, of Kansas City.

Spiritual DP's

There is a Kingdom of God on earth as well as in heaven. To it belong all who have faith in God, who keep His commandments, and who cherish the hope of being united with him one day in everlasting companionship. They are the happy souls whom no misfortune dismays. Not even death, which is, after all, but a transition from a temporary to an eternal kingdom.

Unfortunately, there are other far from happy persons whose lives might be molded in the same good pattern except for their sinfulness or their refusal to give God the first place in their lives. These are the spiritual DP's—the strayed or self-banished, whose plight must always be an invocation to the charity and prayers of others.

So long as men want to sin—that is, to put their wills above God's—there must always be spiritually displaced persons. Sometimes we are appalled at the apparently great numbers who choose to exile themselves from God's kingdom. But we look upon the sinner, not as permanently lost, but simply as a soul in disaster. We want to help him as much as we can.

One can never know the little thing—a word, a smile, a simple gesture—may bring the sinner back to God. That is why our good example, our kindness, sympathy and understanding, are so important. Because we are all potential instruments in God's plans, we should never cease to demonstrate the reality and meaning of the faith that is in us.

By prayer also we can reach out to the spiritual DP's and perhaps have the joy of seeing them take their first tentative steps homeward to God. No one can dream of the wonders wrought by prayer. Even those who have been recipients of its miracles may be totally unaware of its tremendous and far-reaching effects.

Finally, there is the power of patience—the virtue that invites the unbelieving and bids welcome home again to those who have wilfully alienated themselves from God. If nothing else can touch him, perhaps in time the spiritual DP will respond to the influence of some good friend, whose perseverance and long-suffering have given him a glimpse into God's infinitely more tender and compassionate heart.

Religion of Jesus is a Matter For Joy

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Some time ago, discussion arose among a group of ministers concerning the exact nature of the ministry and work of Jesus, and impliedly the demands of Christ upon ourselves.

A paper had been read in which the writer took exception to the common portrayal of Jesus as the gentle Christ, the Christ of the fields and flowers, the Christ of pleasant and leisurely journeying with His disciples, and the discussions and teachings by the way. He emphasized the sterner aspects of the gospel in the portrayal of the perils and dangers the sufferings and sacrifices, and the climax of that sacrificial experience in the Crucifixion.

The strong impression was of the necessity of seeing Jesus in both these aspects. The shadow of the Cross was undoubtedly upon Him from the beginning, even as Simeon had predicted the sword that should pierce Mary's heart (Luke 2:35), but He was the gentle Christ, the lover of the out-of-doors, the fields and fountains, the bleaser of little children, the visitor in homes, and the amiable companion.

But the ministry of Jesus moved toward the Cross. He came not only to minister, but to give His life a ransom for many. It is remarkable how disproportionate a part of the four Gospels so far as actual pages and space are concerned, is taken up with the happenings of the last week or so before Calvary, and especially the very last days.

It was here that the mission and ministry of Jesus began to be realized. How far the full realization of His destiny in the Cross came to be realized by Jesus Himself we cannot know. We do know that up to the last in the agony of the Garden He prayed that the cup might pass; and it was almost impossible for the disciples to believe that the glorious adventure on which they had entered was to have such an issue. Peter expressed their feeling when he said, "Be it far from Thee, Lord."

But many words of Jesus in those last days reveal how conscious He was of that destiny in death and sacrifice despite His earnest prayer and agony in Gethsemane. In that prayer, however, was the deep trust and confidence in the Father's will. "Nevertheless, not as I will, but as Thou wilt."

Those who would truly be disciples of Jesus must be as their Master. "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me."

But the religion of Jesus, even in its sacrificial demands, is not a matter of gloom. Paul, who was a supreme disciple, sounds constantly the note of joy. That is the paradox of the Christian experience and the Christian way—that the religion of the Cross should be the religion of joy, of gentleness and peace, of inward satisfaction, of rejoicing in all that God has given in nature and grace for enjoyment and blessing.

N. Y. Yankees Meet Boston Red Sox Today

First Showdown Of Year Between Williams-DiMaggio

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox invaded the New York Yankee camp today, setting the stage for the first showdown of the year between Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio.

The Yankee Clipper, still nursing an ailing heel, was due in the New York starting lineup for only the second time this spring. He rested yesterday after playing six innings Wednesday.

Vic Raschi, who's never beaten Boston in regular season play, was expected to start on the mound for New York. The Yankees beat the Boston Braves, 9-7, yesterday.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—Jackie Robinson, the Brooklyn Dodgers' biggest box office attraction on the spring tour, is giving the fans their money's worth.

The agile Negro second baseman's batting average is tops on the club. In yesterday's 8-1 victory over San Antonio he collected a double and two singles in five trips to the plate, knocked in two runs, scored once and stole a base.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—A pulled leg muscle suffered by Gene Bearden, star hurler for the Cleveland Indians, became potentially serious today and the hurler was ordered to bed for several days.

Lefty Weisman, Tribe trainer, said the muscle was near the sciatic region.

"If the injury is not given plenty of time to heal, Bearden is liable to find himself hobbling around for the next two or three months," he added.

Bearden pulled the muscle on Wednesday in the eighth inning of the Cleveland-Chicago game.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, beaten in their last two starts, will try again for victory against a National league opponent today. They meet the Boston Braves at Bradenton, Fla.

Jim Hearn and Ken Johnson are scheduled to hurl for the Cards. The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cards, 4-1, yesterday.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns play their first day-night doubleheader today, tangling with the San Antonio Missions in the afternoon and the Chicago Cubs at night.

Dick Starr is slated to hurl against Chicago. The Cubs have a 3-2 edge over the Browns in their spring series.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox expected to get their first glimpse of Pitcher Satchel Paige today while concluding their three-day Tucson stand against the Cleveland Indians. Bill Wight and Howie

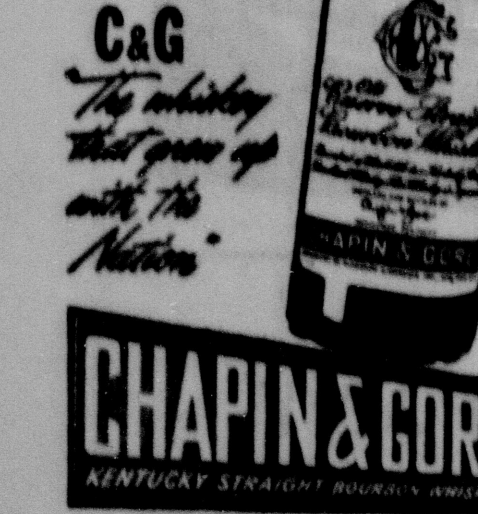

FAMOUS MEN MADE C&G A FAMOUS NAME

In 1872 the liquor firm of Chapin & Gore opened a restaurant in Chicago that was destined to become world famous. It was patronized by the most noted men of the day—statesmen, captains of industry, judges, bon vivants.

BOURBON drinkers today hold C&G Bourbon in the same high regard it has enjoyed since 1866. The reason is there has never been a let-down in the high quality of C&G—no change in the slow, careful method of distillation. Ask for this mellow old bourbon of distinctive taste. You'll agree you've never enjoyed a finer whiskey—that C&G Bourbon is truly a great value.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 1.—(AP)—Syracuse university, which adopted an unusual and roundabout method of firing a football coach, has just about completed the task of selecting a new one.

Syracuse, you remember, set up a fact finding committee and called in almost everybody but the FBI before reaching the decision that Ribs Baysinger was guilty of not winning enough games.

Surprisingly, more than 50 other guys applied for the job, but the list now has been whittled down to three or four.

Unofficial word is that Andy Gustafson, one of Red Black's former Army assistants, is due today for an interview, and he can have the job if he wants it.

Andy had a successful season at University of Miami (Fla.) last fall and may decide not to leave there.

Others in line are Floyd Schwartz, zwaldner of Muhlenberg, who made a fine impression here, and the old Notre Dame, Joe Bach.

One thing the investigations failed to prove was why a college which won eastern championships in boxing and wrestling this winter and had the best basketball team in upstate New York could lose all but one of its football games.

SARASOTA, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Wait Dropo, big, powerful rookie first sacker, will be out of action for three days and unable temporarily to fight for a regular post with the Boston Red Sox.

Wait ran up a temperature of 102 and doctors ordered him to bed for a few days after diagnosing his affliction as intestinal flu.

BRADENTON, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Big Jim Heath may be in the Boston Braves' outfield today when the Tribe plays the St. Louis Cardinals.

Heath, who broke his ankle while sliding home at the end of last season, has been running and hitting here.

Manager Billy Southworth says "I think it's time Jeff got his feet wet."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Eddie Sawyer, Philadelphia Phillies manager, will be happy if Ken Trinkle and Hank Borowy continue to handcuff opposing batters the way they did the St. Louis Cards yesterday.

Trinkle allowed only one hit in four innings as the Phils turned back the Cardinals, 4-1, while Borowy permitted four base blows in five frames.

Fielder Converts To Pitching Staff

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—It probably sounds like an April Fool's joke, but honestly, this may be the year for big Clint Hartung.

Clint is the Texas wonder who was converted by the New York Giants from outfielder to pitcher for his own safety.

One of the most ballyhooed ball players to come out of the army, Hartung never has found his place in the major leagues. He was supposed to be a phenomenal hitter so the Giants tried him in the outfield. They gave that up when catching flies proved to be an unsolvable mystery to him.

As a pitcher he had a tremendous fast ball. Nothing else.

Now, the Giants claim, Clint has developed a curve. A year ago nobody thought he'd ever learn. A month ago they were sure of it.

But Hartung worked seven innings against Pittsburgh the other day and he threw some balls that didn't stay on a straight line.

"If you don't think he was throwing a curve," said Catcher Walker Cooper, "you forgot what you saw last year. He threw a couple of beauties."

Clint, himself, thinks he has it.

"Last year," he says, "too many people were trying to teach me. I'd hear one thing one minute and an entirely different thing two minutes later. I didn't know where I was going. This year (Leo) Durocher put (Frank) Shellenback with me and nobody else. He changed my position on the mound. He shortened my stride and he showed me how to hold the ball. I'm doin' fine."

Students Letter In Basketball

The following boys lettered in basketball for the 1948-49 season: Bob Tipton, Bill Holst, Billy Brown, Bill Morgan, "Bill" McCrary, Larry Vilmer, Carl Quinn, Marvin Lankenau, "Bill" Ray, and Ralph Walker.

"Bob" Tipton scored 378 points for the season and Bill Holst scored 358. Coach Ball will lose four of the lettermen by graduation. They are Bob Tipton, Larry Vilmer, Carl Quinn and Bill Ray.

High School Indoor Track Meet Saturday

Entry List Expected To Exceed Sixty Teams, Two Classes

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 1.—(AP)—The University City Indians will be favored, historically if for no other reason, to win the Class A championship of the Missouri High School Athletic Association's indoor track meet here tomorrow.

Minus most of the stars that collaborated in winning the championship, Coach H. E. Schemmer's Indians still must be rated the team to beat.

The Indians have won all but two of the indoor championships dating back to the first meet in 1930.

While Schemmer rates his squad as "ordinary," he will have one of the two defending champions in high jumper Terry Falls. And if history does any repeating at all, he will get some "extra-ordinary" performances from his "ordinary" talent.

Coach Charles Childress, of Lee's Summit, the Class B defending champion, joins with Schemmer in the expressed belief that tomorrow will be "open season" on the defending champions.

"We don't have the team balance or the individual power of a year ago," Childress said, "but we'll give it our very best."

Returning champion In addition to Falls, the only returning champion in Class A is Carroll Maas, of Kirkwood, who set a new shot put record of 51 feet 1/2 inch in the meet last year.

Berton McVay, of Princeton, 880 yard ace, is the lone defending champion in Class B.

The entry list is expected to exceed sixty teams in the two classes. Already entered are the following:

Class A—Clayton, Columbia Hickman, Ferguson, Independence William Chrisman, Kansas City East, Kansas City Northeast, Kemper Military Academy, Hannibal, Kirkwood, Lebanon, Normandy, Mountain Grove, North Kansas City, St. Louis Lutheran, University City and Webster Groves.

Class B—Alma, Booneville, Blue Springs, Braggadocio, Centralia, Chillicothe, Cleamont, Crystal City, Cuba, De Soto, Edina, Eldon, Ewing, Excelsior Springs, Fulton, Glasgow, Green City, Greenwood, Hancock, Herculaneum, Hickman Mills, Rusklin, Huntsville, Kansas City Center, Lee's Summit, Licking, Macon, Maryville, Mexico, Moberly, Pacific, Pilot Grove, Pleasant Hill, Princeton, Raytown, St. Clair, Springfield Greenwood, Troy, Warrensburg, Warrenton and Wentworth Military Academy.

Ten-Round Bout Staged Tonight

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Trained to perfection and raring to go, lightweight champion Ike Williams and Kid Gavilan, the slick fighting machine from Cuba, will clash tonight in a ten-round non-title "rubber" bout in Madison Square Garden.

Dead-panned Ike is a 5 to 8 favorite.

A sellout crowd of 10,000 is expected to contribute to a $90,000 gate for the boxing finale of the Garden's winter season.

Williams, his right shoulder fully cured of the injury which forced a postponement of the match, figures to come in at 138 pounds. Gavilan has been aiming to hit 146.

Hard punching Ike won their first bout by unanimous decision and Gavilan evened the count on a split decision.

Tonight's winner will be in line for a possible outdoor title bout with welterweight champion Ray Robinson.

Annual Kemper Indoor Track Meet Staged Today

BOONVILLE, Mo., April 1.—(AP)—The annual Kemper Indoor track meet will be held here today, with Graceland College of Damoni, Ia., favored to cop the title for the third straight year.

Graceland will have 35 performers, while Kemper will be represented by 25, Kansas City, Kas., junior colleg by about 15, and lesser numbers by four other schools.

Favored Team Defeated In American Legion Tourney

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 1.—(AP)—A favored Moorhead, Minn., team was defeated by Red Lion, Pa., 55-49, last night in the second round of the National American Legion basketball tourney.

In other second round games, McPherson, Kas., won a double overtime victory over Niles, Mich., 45-42, and Casselton, N. D., downed Ft. Payne, Ala., 58-40.

In a first round game, Tecumseh, Okla., defeated Grace, Idaho, 48-21.

Herb Greeg Will Direct Missouri's Basketball Squad

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 1.—(AP)—Herb Greeg, former basketball and baseball player at the University of Missouri, will direct the school's 1949 baseball squad, it was announced yesterday.

Phillies' 10th Man

Fleet Richie Ashburn, prize rookie of last year and major's top base-stealer with 32, heads for first base as Braves' Phil Masi moves to field bunt in Clearwater, Fla. Umpire Art Gore, though impartial, has donned a pair of Phillies' pants due to slight accident to his blue jeans. Philadelphia Nationals won, 8-4

Seniors and Juniors Winners

The first round of the annual L. Club sponsored inter-class basketball tournament was held Thursday night at the Smith-Cotton high school. The seniors were classed with the sophomores in the first game of the tournament.

The higher classmen took an easy victory by the score of 43 to 30.

The second was a runaway affair with the powerful juniors defeating the eighth-ninth graders by the astounding score of 69 to 26 in a game that found only two juniors on the floor at the end.

Tonight at 7:30 the sophomore and the eighth-ninth graders will angle for the consolation and the juniors and seniors will fight it out for the championship.

Faurot is Looking For a Quarterback

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 1.—(AP)—Coach Don Faurot is pretty well satisfied with his campaign to find a quarterback capable of running his Missouri football team this fall, but the job is still wide open.

The head man of the Tigers has been using six men in scrimmage this week and at the moment it appears that Martin Sauer has the best chance of getting the starting assignment handled by Bus Entsminger the past three seasons.

Working with Sauer, who was Entsminger's number one assistant as engineer of the split-T last fall, are Bob Robinson of Beverly, Mass., who devoted most of his time to punting last year; Phil Klein of Kansas City and Hi Welch of Cameron, 1948 "B" teamers, and Bob Henley, San Bernardino, Calif., and Bob Hailcy, Mount Vernon, up from the freshman squad.

District Tournament Assignment Released

WICHITA, Kas., April 1.—(AP)—District tournament assignments were listed by the National Baseball Congress today — a part, it said, of some 400 to 500 to be scheduled before July 1.

They're the lower rung to be climbed by semi-pros, on the ladder including state tournaments and the national playoffs here in August.

District champions and July 1 leaders in affiliated leagues will qualify to the state tournaments.

The district assignments include: Cherokee, Okla., Hot Springs and Ozark, Ark.

will be staged for the fourth ward voters at Horace Mann school at which time, Frank W. Hayes is to be the principal speaker.

Dewey Guinn presided over the meeting and introduced candidates, Walter A. Smethers, candidate for alderman of the second ward; John Vandekamp, candidate for alderman of the fourth ward; Peter R. Menefee, candidate for the first ward, James E. Dur-ley, candidate for city attorney, and Palmer R. Nichols, for board of education member, all of whom gave brief talks.

Commends Sanitation
In his city campaign talk to the Democratic crowd of the second ward, Mr. McCloskey said one of the most important improvements in city government services offered to the citizens of this community has been the establishment of a uniform collection of garbage and refuse.

The speaker, only recently coming to Sedalia from St. Louis, said that city has recently introduced a system of collecting garbage, and has confined the collection strictly to garbage. He said that city has the problem of disposing of other refuse. The obligation is on the householder to make the disposition of refuse other than garbage. In this service we are far ahead of the large metropolises

Tornado Levels Kansas Home

This wreckage was the seven-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heffron before it was struck by a tornado which cut a swath several hundred yards wide and three miles long about five miles southeast of Dexter, Kans. Thrown into the yard during the storm, the couple escaped serious injuries, but was hospitalized at Winfield, Kans. (NEA TELEPHOTO) on the Mississippi, he told the crowd.

Lower Hydrant Rental
Mr. McCloskey pointed out briefly the city has negotiated with the water company and has procured a reduction in hydrant rental rates and is now carrying on a program whereby some 40 or more hydrants will be placed throughout the city at such points where the fire underwriters deem the need is greatest. No fire department can adequately operate without a water supply near the scene of fire. Your fire department in Sedalia is no exception, the speaker related.

As to the city parks and playgrounds, you all know what has been done along that line—we now have two additional park play grounds which are so located that children can go to them without traveling too far from home.

New Lights For Ward
Reference on the improved street lighting and lights to be installed in Sedalia it was disclosed the second ward will receive twenty street lights in their residential district. In addition to these there will be four highway and white-way lights, making a total of 24 new lights in the second ward that will be installed.

"Now I think all of us are proud of the progress that has been made in the city of Sedalia, and when you have been away as I have you can catch the different feeling that is in the air," the speaker said.

He stressed the city government and pointed out that it is close and personal to the citizens. No other representative can do things that are felt by you any more than your councilman who have the interests of the city at heart and has the interests of the second ward at heart, the speaker said.

In conclusion, the speaker said the mayor of our city is entitled to a team that will put together
"Mr. Smethers' own record both as a private citizen and as public servant recommends itself to you who are here tonight," he declared.
He said a vote for Smethers is a vote for a continuance of progress in Sedalia.

Looking Backward • Forty Years Ago

The ten room residence of W.
H. Cloney, southwest corner of Broadway and Missouri avenue, was damaged to the extent of about $11,000 on the dwelling and contents by fire.

Howard Wood was appointed as chief of police at the fair grounds for the coming state fair, this being the fifth consecutive time he has been chosen for that duty.

A motion picture showing recent successful airplane flights by the Wright brothers in France was

The Doctor Says

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Rheumatic fever, which may attack either children or grown-ups, is one of the most common and serious causes of heart disease. A severe bout of the disease may damage the heart so badly that heart failure develops in later years. This is not always the case, however, since many people pass through one or even more attacks of rheumatic fever without sustaining dangerous injury to their hearts.

Both the heart muscle and the inner valves of the heart may be affected. The valves which lie between the heart chambers serve an important purpose in the circulation of the blood. If they are damaged in such a way as to cause the blood to flow backward into a chamber, which it is supposed to have left, the heart is subjected to extra strain.

Danger Sign

Strain of this sort may eventually produce signs of what is called heart failure. Shortness of breath on exertion is one of the commonest signs of such heart failure. If this is noticed, the heart should be carefully examined to determine the seriousness of the difficulty. In mild cases extensive treatments may not be necessary. A reduction in the amount of exercise or exertion may be enough to bring back reserve strength to the heart.

In more severe cases, of course, not only must more rest be taken and the cause attacked by whatever appropriate measures are available, but also special treatments, such as the use of digitalis, must be considered. The removal of fluid from the abdominal cavity or the legs, either through a needle or by stimulating the kidneys by drugs, are other common lines of treatment.

The diagnosis and treatment of heart failure of varying causes and degrees is so important that it always requires careful study by the physician and complete co-operation between doctor and patient.

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Acquittal for Dr. Westover

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 1.—(P)—A circuit court jury deliberated 15 minutes Thursday afternoon before acquitting Dr. Henry Tudor Westover, 32-year-old college professor, of drunken driving charges.

Dr. Westover, who is head of the psychology department at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., was arrested here Oct. 1 following an accident and the intoxicated driving charge was placed against him.

He was released on bond and then disappeared for nine days, finally turning up in a Houston, Tex., hospital, apparently a victim of amnesia.

Principal defense witness was Dr. E. Chaille Chasson, of Columbia, Mo., prominent woman psychiatrist, who testified that Dr. Westover had suffered a skull fracture, apparently in a fall from his car before he reached Springfield on the day of his arrest.

The handsome, youthful-looking professor who sat quietly beside his wife throughout the trial, broke into a wide smile when the jury's verdict was announced.

He shook hands with each member of the jury as they left the courtroom.

Seven Bodies From Wrecked C-47 Plane

Belief Extra Man Had Hitch-Hiked Ride on Aircraft

EDGAR SPRINGS, Mo., April 1.—(P)—Seven bodies were removed Thursday from the wreckage of an Air Force C-47 which crashed into a cattle pond on a farm near here Wednesday night during a driving rainstorm.

A salvage crew from Scott Air Force base, near Belleville, Ill., removed the last of the bodies at 3:30 p. m. (CST). The small pond was drained so that they could get at the wreckage, which was partially submerged.

Air Force Authorities said only six were listed as being on the plane. They expressed belief the extra man had hitch-hiked a ride.

At Rapid City, S. D., officers said four airmen from the 28th Air Base headquarters squadron were aboard the C-47.

1st Lt. Lorimer Peterson, public relations officer, said those on the ship when it cleared Rapid City were:

Capt. Charles W. Richardson, Jr., Harrisburg, Pa.
1st Lt. David A. Kenny, Omaha, Neb.

Sgt. Walter J. Grebowski, route 4, St. Paul, Minn., and Pvt. Sproat, Salem, Ohio.

Lt. Peterson said Richardson and Kenny were married and had two children each. Grebowski had a wife and three children and Sproat was unmarried.

Air Force men at the scene said

Blasting to Reach Bodies in Plane

A small dynamite blast (left) cuts away the dam of a cattle pond on a farm near Edgar Springs, Missouri, as rescue workers seek to drain the pond to search for bodies in the wreckage of a plane which crashed into the pond. Part of the wreckage of the Army C-47, including a landing wheel, may be seen on the far edge of the pond. The plane crashed into the pond during a rainstorm. A farm house is in the background. (AP WIREPHOTO) the remains of a flare were found and probably was released from the plane shortly before it crashed. They said previous reports that some occupants parachuted before the crash were in error.

The two-motored plane was en route to Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City, from an undisclosed base. It had refueled at Patterson Air Base, Dayton, O.

Late today, the covered bodies of the victims were lined up along side the drained pond. They were to be removed to Scott base.

Military police from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., 12 miles west of the scene, kept spectators about 300 yards from the wreckage.

A crowd of about 500 spectators visited the scene, and posed a traffic problem for state highway patrolmen. A single-lane road leading to the farm where the crash occurred was crowded with automobiles. Drivers had difficulty getting by each other.

The two cafes in this village of 150 were hard pressed to feed the visitors.

Three Are Killed

FORT BRAGG, N. C., April 1.—(P)—Three Air Force lieutenants died today in the crash of their C-47 transport at the Pope Field Base. They were the only ones aboard.

The huge planes sometimes carry up to 30 men.

The plane crashed while attempting a landing in an open field near the Pope Field officers' club.

Fire immediately enveloped the big plane.

The C-47, attached to Pope Field, was believed to have been part of the 10th Tactical Reconnaissance wing.

Witnesses said the motor sounded as if it were in trouble.

Aid Family After Home Burned

PILOT GROVE, Mo., April 1.—(P)—Pilot Grove's residents proved good neighbors to a family which lost all its possessions in a fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green and their five children were routed from their burning home Thursday night, saving only their night clothing.

The neighbors went to work. Using donated pick-up trucks, volunteers and high school boys canvassed the town of 800 for clothing and furniture for the Green family. The volunteers said nearly everyone added something

Demands of France Are to Be Given Due Consideration

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Charles De Gaulle, demanding that France's military needs take precedence over those of Britain under the Atlantic Alliance, is merely setting up a straw man for the sake of knocking it over.

At the same time he seeks to make domestic political hay out of a suggestion that the United States hesitate to rearm his country under a government "incapable of inspiring or directing a defense worthy of the name."

This, of course, brought a political reply from the government, with Foreign Minister Schuman promising to demand plenty for France.

United States and British officials fully recognize that, while Britain's military position is relatively good in the present state of western disarmament, France's is poor. There is not evidence of any thought in Washington but that the first need under the Atlantic pact is to rehabilitate the French army. In that respect, the demands are for something which already is in the cards.

Controversial Subject

The idea that the present French government might "pull a 1940" is obviously fostered by the wish that the United States would bring pressure to De Gaulle's own recall to head the government. But with further American spending becoming an increasingly controversial subject in Congress, he may merely have provided fuel for a debate which could threaten the good of his own country.

What De Gaulle says is of far less interest to American rearmament planners than is the situation in the western European joint chiefs of staff.

The state department and budget bureau, acting with the very close advice of the defense department, are moving ahead with estimates for military aid to western Europe. Soon the time will come for joint strategic planning. U. S. relations with uniformed, as General Montgomery's joint staff in Paris is known, will become paramount.

At present, according to best advices from abroad, uniformed is anything but unified. As Eisenhower had his Montgomery during the war, to an even greater degree Montgomery now has his De Gaulle, the French general appointed to head the western union ground forces. British admirals on the staff don't think much of their French counterparts. The situation has been described as more like "the dismal Foch setup of World War II" than Eisenhower's SHAEF.

This is something the United States will have to insist on getting straightened out.

Two In Truck Killed by Train

HUTCHISON, Kas., April 1.—(P)—Two truck drivers were killed at Abbeyville, southwest of here, late Thursday afternoon when their truck was struck by a fast Santa Fe mail train.

The men were identified as John Bicknell, 29, Tulsa and Max Phifer, 23, Salina.

All of the above described lands being and situate in the County of Pettis and State of Missouri.

Kremlin Aim 'Rule of World'

Churchill Says Atomic Bomb is Deterrent Against Communists

By James F. King

BOSTON, March 31—(AP)—But for the atomic bomb Europe would have been Communized and London under bombardment, Winston Churchill said tonight.

Britain's war time premier bluntly accused the 13 men in the "Kremlin" of "aiming at the rule of the world" and charged they "fear the friendship of the west more than its hostility."

He described the "atomic bomb in the hands of the United States" as "the deterrent."

Churchill's widely heard remarks—broadcast throughout the country and overseas—were given in a speech at a mid-century convocation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, whose scientists helped develop the atom bomb.

But "war is not inevitable," the 74-year-old British statesman told a distinguished audience of scientists, diplomats and educators in Boston Garden.

He added:

"We need not abandon hope or patience."

"Many favorable processes are on foot. Under the impact of Communism all the free nations are being welded together as they never have been before and never could be, but for the harsh external pressure to which they are being subjected."

Fair Play Desires

Over and over, Churchill said "we have no hostility to the Russian people" and asserted:

"We seek nothing from Russia but goodwill and fair play."

But, he warned:

"If, however, there is to be a war of nerves, let us make sure our nerves are strong and are fortified by the deepest convictions of our hearts."

"If we preserve steadfastly together, and allow no appeasement of tyranny and wrong-doing in any form, it may not be our nerve or the structure of our civilization which will break, and peace may yet be preserved."

While calling these times a "darkening hour," Churchill heralded the Marshall plan, the "new unity in western Europe" and the Atlantic pact.

He said:

"No one could however have brought about these immense changes in the feeling of the United States, Great Britain and Europe but for the astounding policy of the Russian Soviet government."

"We may well ask," said Churchill "why have they deliberately acted so as to unite the free world against them?"

"It is certainly not because there are not very able men among them. Why have they done it?"

"They cannot afford to allow free and friendly intercourse to grow up between the vast area they control and the civilization of the west."

Even after all our victories, Churchill said:

"We are now faced by perils, both grave and near, and by problems more than have ever confronted Christian civilization, even in this twentieth century of storm and change."

Later are now confronted with something quite as wicked but in some ways more formidable than Hitler, because Hitler had only the Herrenvolk pride and anti-semitic hatred; exploit. He had no fundamental theme."

Subjugation Purpose

"But," said Churchill "these men in the Kremlin have their hierarchy and a church of Communist adepts, whose missionaries are in every country as a fifth column, awaiting the day when they hope to be the absolute masters."

Tunneled Their Way Out of Lebanon Jail

LEBANON, Mo., March 31—(AP)—Two men arrested Tuesday night in a stolen car tunneled their way out of the Laclede county jail here early today.

Deputy Sheriff Ralph Watkins listed them as Theodore Peter Oshinsky, 23, and Walter Hall Foster, 26, both of Cleveland, O.

The theft of a new model Ford and a half dairy truck was discovered here about an hour before the men were missed early today.

Watkins said the men apparently used a tobacco tin to chip mortar loose between bricks on the outer wall of the second floor where their cells were located, dropped to the roof of a first floor, and from there to the ground.

Twisters in the East and South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baby twisters swooped down on Pennsylvania and Florida Thursday injuring two persons and damaging at least 10 buildings.

And in Nebraska and South Dakota 52 communities were without long distance telephone service after a spring storm which jumped up to 23 inches of snow in the area Wednesday and Thursday. Two brothers died in a storm at Atkinson, Neb.

The rain-laden storm moving into the east from the mid-west brought grief to Niceville in northwestern Florida and to the Uniontown-Balsinger area in southwestern Pennsylvania.

The Uniontown Country Club was partly wrecked by tornado-like winds which slashed a 50-yard-wide path across the Pennsylvania area before petering out in the nearby Blue Ridge mountains. Damage to the club was estimated at $100,000.

Five homes in the sector were partly demolished. A farmer was injured when the high wind tipped over his barn, trapping him beneath it.

Fairly heavy snow fell in northern Wisconsin and the north part of lower Michigan.

Soviet Charge Atlantic Pact Is 'Aggressive'

Protest Received Wednesday in Washington

LONDON, Friday, April 1—(AP)—The Soviet Union charged today the North Atlantic treaty is "openly aggressive," is directed against her and breaks five international agreements.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the Russian position was transmitted to the seven sponsoring nations of the treaty in a memorandum yesterday.

The Soviet foreign ministry through its ambassadors gave these conclusions to the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, Canada, the Netherlands and Luxembourg:

1. The Atlantic treaty has an openly aggressive character and is directed against the Soviet Union.

2. The treaty runs counter to the United Nations Charter.

3. It violates the Anglo-Soviet treaty, the Franco-Soviet treaty and the Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

Received in Washington

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP)—A Russian protest against the North Atlantic treaty was received at the state department here late today.

It came as foreign ministers from the North Atlantic region gathered to sign the pact next Monday.

The question of whether the pact might prove a possible "incitement" to some aggressive action by the Soviet had been raised last night by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

He said that if Russia regarded the pact as an offensive threat it "might become an incitement to war and make it more probable the need of less."

The formal expression of Russia's objections to the regional defense arrangement was not expected to have the slightest effect on the western powers in signing the treaty and in going through with the defense arrangements, including rearmament, for which it will form the basis.

The Russian note reached the state department late in the afternoon, evidently about the time that Secretary of State Acheson was conferring with Netherlands Foreign Minister D. J. Stikker and shortly after he had held a two-hour conference with British foreign Minister Ernest Bevin on Germany, Greece and other European questions.

State department officials would say tonight only that the measure had been received from the Soviet embassy here.

Officials said that at the close of work today the message was being translated. It apparently would not get any attention from Acheson or other top officials until tomorrow.

The statement of the Russian position, however, appeared mainly to be an official declaration to each of the seven governments which sponsored the treaty that Russia considers the pact a violation of the United Nations Charter and an aggressive document.

The Soviet government has already taken this position publicly and for several weeks Communists all over the world have been denouncing the Atlantic Alliance.

It was not immediately clear whether the Soviet statement would require an answer but diplomats speculated that if it was not answered directly through diplomatic channels it would be replied to in an official public statement here.

Earlier in the day Acheson and Bevin had started what may be a final and successful effort by the western powers to agree on plans for the future of western Germany.

Five Lose Lives in Crash of Plane

LONDON, Ont., March 31—(AP)—Chemical magnate Willard H. Dow, his wife and three other persons crashed to their deaths in a plane today on a storm-soaked Canadian meadow.

The 52-year-old president of the sprawling Dow Chemical Co., one of the world's largest, was flying with his party to attend a gathering in Boston, Mass.

Struck by a lashing rain, the pilot apparently was trying for an emergency landing in a field a mile from the London airport. The plane hit a knoll, bounced and crashed. Within seconds it was aflame.

Dr. Dow, Mrs. Martha Dow, 51; Mrs. Alta Campbell, 44; pilot A. J. Bowie, and co-pilot Fred Clements, all of Midland, Mich., were believed killed instantly.

The only survivor was Mrs. Campbell's husband, Calvin, head of Dow's legal department at the company's headquarters in Midland. He was treated in a London hospital for back injuries.

Bowie, a 35-year-old veteran of the airways and a company pilot, was believed at the controls at the time of the crash. The two-motored company plane had taken off from an airport near Midland at 9 a. m. and was heading due east over Canada. At 10:55 a. m. it crashed.

The internationally known chemist was planning to attend the mid-century convocation tonight of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His son, Herbert H. Dow, the second, is a student at M. I. T.

Sends More Cash To Pay on Debts

NEW YORK, March 31—(AP)—A bank official missing since Sunday has sent more than $76,000 in cash to friends and banks here to pay debts police disclosed today.

The day after the banker, Richard Crowe, 41, disappeared from his Staten Island home, the National City Bank discovered that $88,660 was missing from its 195 Broadway branch. Crowe was assistant manager.

Simultaneously, the banker's wife revealed that he wrote her from Florida that "I feel everyone will be better off without me."

The FBI said charges of violating two sections of the Federal Reserve Act pertaining to embezzlement of National Bank funds have been filed against Crowe.

Receipt of the letter seemed to have narrowed down to Florida in a 13-state hunt for the handsome, popular banker. The FBI, which was spearheading the search, would say nothing about the case.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan has said that the disappearance of the funds might prove to be the biggest theft of its kind in Manhattan history.

Opposes Cut in European Aid

Truman Speaks Out Against a Move for Slash

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP)—President Truman spoke out today against a Republican-led drive to cut millions if not billions of dollars off the flow of American aid to Europe.

The European recovery program, Mr. Truman said firmly, should not be cut at all.

But administration leaders in the Senate, where the issue was being debated, conceded that sizeable reductions may be warranted in 1950 of the Marshall plan nations get "over the hump" this year. Originally a four-year plan, the Marshall program is scheduled to extend into mid 1952.

Mr. Truman told his news conference with emphasis that Congress should provide the full $5,580,000,000 requested by Marshall plan Administrator Paul G. Hoffman to carry Europe over the next 15 months.

The program, he said, has been worked out very carefully and should stay the way it is.

Questioned On Drive

Mr. Truman's comment followed questions by newsmen about a Republican economy drive sparked by Senators Taft (Ohio), Wherry (Neb.) and Capehart (Ind.), with Democratic support from Senator Russell.

In capsule form, here are their proposals:

Taft—cut 10 percent off foreign aid and all federal spending; otherwise, he said, Congress will have to boost taxes by July 1.

Wherry—reduce the $5,580,000,000 total to $3,638,000,000, and spread it over 12 months instead of 15.

Capehart—a $3,000,000,000 limit. The critical test on the administration's fight for the whole amount centered on the Taft-Russell amendment for a 10 percent reduction.

Administration leaders said they expected a close vote.

Altogether, 27 amendments have been tossed into the Senate hopper. Besides the economy proposals, many of them would seek to give tighter protection to the American economy and to U. S. capital.

'Effective Law' States President Referring to Rent Bill he Signed: Survey of Landlord Incomes Ordered

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31—(AP)—Housing expediter Tighe Woods today ordered a survey of landlord incomes. The findings will determine what rent increases are to be granted under the new control law.

Announcing the order in a statement, Woods declared the 15 month extension is a "considerable strengthening" of the previous law and does not mean "a general rent increase for all tenants."

The new rent law which keeps control another fifteen months, effective at midnight, will it is believed enable the local area rent control office to exercise more leniency toward the landlord and make it possible to grant some increases in rent which was not permitted under the old bill.

Tax increases in Sedalia since 1945 have jumped from $2.40 to $3.61 in 1948 per hundred dollar valuation and other increases in operating expenses have been the basis for increases in rent.

The new law does require that rent ceilings allow landlords a "fair operating income." The survey is to obtain information for carrying out that part of the law.

Shortly after Woods announced his plans, President Truman took another crack at what he called the real estate lobby.

The rent ceiling bill he signed yesterday must be a good one, the president said, in view of the criticism of it in a telegram he has received.

Sender Could Release Message

Under questioning at his news conference, Mr. Truman said the telegram came from the National Association of Real Estate Boards. He wasn't releasing the telegram himself, he said, but the sender, a M. Nelson, was at liberty to do so.

The exchange started with this question:

"Mr. President, would you care to comment on the reaction of the real estate lobby to the rent control law?"

Mr. Truman replied, with a trace of sarcasm in his voice, that he had a long-vindictive telegram from the real estate lobby giving him all sorts of what-for for signing the bill. So, he added, it must be a good bill for that very reason.

M. U. Singers Appear Here On April Fifth

Barbara Roberts, Of Sedalia, Will Be Soloist

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 26.—The University Singers, a select group of sixty-three mixed voices of students in the University of Missouri, with Miss Barbara Roberts of Sedalia as soprano soloist, will present two concerts in Sedalia April 5, under the direction of Dr. Paul Van Rodegraven, as associate professor of music education and organizer of the group.

Both concerts will be given in the auditorium of Smith-Cotton high school, the first a 30-minute program beginning at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon for students and teachers of the school, and the other at 8 p. m., which will be a full concert open to the public. Presented under co-sponsorship of the Adult Education and Extension Service and the Department of Music of the University, there will be no charge for either program.

To Sing Solo Parts

Miss Roberts will sing the solo parts in Shure's "I'll Take My Staff and Travel On."

Miss Roberts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roberts, 1313 West Broadway in Sedalia. A former student at Christian College in Columbia, where she sang with several choral groups, she is now a senior in the College of Education at the University.

Two other Sedalians, James W. Fullerton and Robert L. Wild, are also members of the exclusive University Singers and will appear in the home town concerts. Fullerton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fullerton, 912 West Seventh street, and is a senior in the School of Journalism. Wild, who is a graduate student at the University, is the son of Mrs. A. B. Wild, 1302 West Fifth street, in Sedalia.

Two-Part Program

In the evening concert the singers will present a two-part program of eighteen numbers, blending the light with the classical, the soft organ tones of the hymnal and the Negro spiritual with selections from Rodgers' "Carousel." The same program is to be presented by the University Singers in their annual spring concert on the campus at Columbia April 7.

The Sedalia appearance will be the second off-the-campus concert tour of the singers this year under the sponsorship of the University's Adult Education and Extension Service. The group sang before 12,000 high school students and their teachers in St. Louis high schools last December. At that time they also visited Radio Station KMOX of St. Louis, where a program of Christmas songs was recorded and later broadcast as a feature of that station's New Year's Eve program.

Sixty-Three Voices

The University Singers is comprised of the best voices on the campus chosen after exhaustive auditions. All members have had previous singing experience, and about half of the present group the majoring in music or music education at the University.

Normally limited to sixty voices, the present organization includes sixty-three because of the outstanding quality of voice of the several hundred original applicants. Six of the nine University divisions on the Columbia campus are represented in the present group, in which students from nine states are included.

The Singers will travel to Sedalia in chartered buses, leaving Columbia at noon on April 5, and returning immediately after the evening concert. In addition to conductor Van Rodegraven, they will be accompanied on the trip by C. W. Bellaw, supervisor of field service in the Adult Education and Extension Service, and by a chaperon.

An Old-Fashioned Organ

Recently while Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fraley, of 903 South Lamine avenue, were attending an auction sale on East Broadway an old-fashioned family style organ was put up for sale and Mrs. Fraley's thoughts went back to the time when the same kind of organ came into her home when she was a little girl. She remembered how proud the family had been and how she had learned to play on it. Then organs went out of style and pianos came in, so families who had organs got rid of them. But Mrs. Fraley didn't like the piano—she still liked the old organ with its soft tones. All through her life she wanted again the little organ she had learned to play on.

When the little organ was put up and the voice of the auctioneer, Kemp Hieronymus, rang out at the auction sale, Mr. and Mrs. Fraley began to bid on it. It looked well its years but it still had possibilities. One pedal was broken, but as Mrs. Fraley played it the tone was the same as she remembered in her childhood.

Had It Refinished

They took it to John Starkey who refinished it. It was sold without only three of its original pieces missing. Judge Harry Berry did the fancy shelf work and Carson Meredith the work on the instrumental structure. Harry Collins did the printing and when they were finished it looked as new as the organ that first came into Mrs. Fraley's home when she was a little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraley enjoyed getting the organ fixed up. They went to one of the local stores to buy material for trimming. A young man waited on them and wanted to sell them some thread and buttons to go with it. "But we don't need thread and buttons," they told him.

"I don't see how you can use it without," he said.

Then they told him it was to be used for an organ and patches were to be glued on.

"Well," said the young man, "I have sold this material for children's play suits, women's jackets, men's sport coats, but never for an organ—I give up."

In addition to playing the organ herself, Mrs. Fraley has a daughter, Mrs. Chester Curtis and a little granddaughter, Annatta Fraley, 10 years old, daughter of Mrs. Curtis, who can play it.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraley plan to have music for their friends and are anxious to show their organ—for they are very happy to have it in their home, they want others to enjoy it, too.

Humorist To Address Club

The next Knife and Fork club dinner will be for entertainment only of the members and their ladies—no great questions to solve—no duties to the rest of the world to be told about—just an enjoyable evening of "escape." The affair will be held Wednesday evening, March 30 at Bothwell hotel.

Local club officers never heard of "collards" till Ed Harding, humorist, said he would talk about them here, after accepting the club's invitation. The dictionary says collards are a "variety of cabbage that does not gather its edible leaves into a head." Whether he expects to be on the sending or the receiving end of the collards, Mr. Harding hasn't said. Anyhow, it will be something different from previous dinners.

Club members have been telling officers and directors they want more variety in club speakers, and an occasional relief from world affairs and bread-and-butter "problems" so the officers invited the most renowned platform humorist they could find to come and oblige the members.

The dinner meeting will start at 7 p. m.

Katy Service Has Kept Up With the Times

Humorous Incident In Its History Was in This County

The April issue of "Trains," an illustrated railroad magazine, carries an informative and comprehensive article on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, entitled "Katy Serves the Southwest." The article relates the history and growth of the road, its services and business area, and its modern administration.

In 1945, R. J. Morfa was installed as chairman of the board for the road, and began a program of administration that was to be characterized by the placement of men already with the road and familiar with its organization to the higher positions on the Katy. Mr. Morfa's appointment of D. V. Fraser as president of the road inaugurated this policy, and it has since been carried out in many other offices, including placement of the 84 members of the board of directors.

To Eventually Have Diesels

The article also told of the Katy's plan of eventually replacing all of its 219 steam locomotives with diesel engines, of which it has only 37 at present. Much advanced study and preparation has gone into this long-range project, and extensive planning for diesel system has been under the direction of Thomas H. Evans, chief mechanical officer of the road. Somewhat of a paradox is noted in the fact that the conversion to diesels is being made belatedly, after the Katy has burned oil in steam locomotives for so many years. Oil and other petroleum products are the road's chief freight commodity.

Road in Good Shape

The physical condition of the road was pictured as good, following a period of rehabilitation advanced by the new administration and war prosperity. Over $117,000,000 has been spent for new rolling stock, buildings, track and other improvements and new equipment. The Katy now had 3024 miles of track, and tracking rights for nearly 228 miles. The average yearly total of passengers is 2,269,000. The road employs over 5,000 people and in 1947 made industrial investments of over $20,000,000 in the southwest alone, where the road serves over 800 communities.

Passenger service on the Katy has also benefited from the new administration. Faster and more convenient trains and schedules enable the Katy to meet competition of more roads in its area, and some of these benefits have been derived from the plan of joint ownership of certain trains and used of certain track with the Frisco railroad. This has proved to be to the mutual benefit of both roads. The streamlined "Texas Special," operating partly over Frisco lines, is the successful example of this plan.

Katy freight service is sharing the products and profits of the industrial boom of the southwest, with new war-born industries and expansion programs, and nearly a balance is obtained in freight hauling to and from these districts. The eastern and northern districts have always carried freight to those sections in greater abundance than that taken from them.

A Humorous Incident One of the most humorous incidents in Katy history is the story of "Lard Hill," an upgrade between Sedalia and Green Ridge. It seems that a Katy train once hit and killed a pig belonging to a widow with several children, who lived near the tracks. As it happened, the pig was about to be butchered anyway, so the widow just took care of the porker in the usual way.

Complications were discovered soon after her filing of a claim against the road for the pig. After discovering the circumstances of the accident, the Katy offered her $5 as final settlement. She indignantly refused this, and soon set about covering the upgrade tracks with the lard from the ill-fated pig. The train was unable to climb the grade over the slippery rails with the usual assistance of the sand it carried. Finally, much to the widow's delight and the trainmen's dismay, they were forced to clean the track with straw and other debris nearby before the train could slide over the grade and continue on its way.

Airplane Equipment Found in Field

A U. S. Army signal corps radio-sonde transmitter was found in a field on the farm of C. G. Schlobohm, of Route 2, LaMonte, on Thursday afternoon. The farm is located between LaMonte and Green Ridge.

The transmitter, with a parachute and broken balloon attached, is one of the type used in observation of weather and atmospheric conditions. It will be turned over to the National Guard at the Army.

Bill to Give Land to Scouts

Dan D. Doty, state representative from Pettis county to the State Legislature, said Saturday night that he would introduce a bill in the house Monday morning to donate forty acres of state property to the Girl Scouts of Sedalia.

Representative Doty said this property is located about 3½ miles southwest of Sedalia. He said the state purchased this land about twenty years ago to build a school for wayward Negro girls. The school was built elsewhere and for the past ten years the Girl Scouts have been leasing this property for one dollar a year with the understanding that in case the state wanted it back, the scouts were to give it up in 90 days.

Doty said it would be a nice thing to obtain this land for the "mothers of tomorrow." He said the girls would work harder in their projects, because they would be working with something that belongs to the Girl Scouts of America, their own organization.

Kremlin Aim at 'Rule Of World'

ters of their fellow-countrymen and pay off old scores.

"They have their anti-God religion and their Communist doctrine of the entire subjugation of the individual to the state.

"Behind this stands the largest army in the world, the hands of a government pursuing imperialist expansion, as no Czar or Kaiser had ever done."

"The situation," he said, "has been well described by distinguished Americans as the 'cold war'."

"And the question is asked 'are we winning the cold war?'" Churchill contended "this cannot be decided by looking at Europe alone."

"We must also look to Asia," he said. "The worst disaster since our victory has been the collapse of China under Communist attack and intrigue."

"China, in which the United States have always taken a high interest, comprises an immense part of the population of the world."

"The absorption of China and India into the Kremlin-controlled Communist empire would certainly bring measureless bloodshed and misery to eight or nine hundred million people."

"On the other hand," Churchill declared, "the position in Europe has so far been successfully maintained."

Gain For Peace

"The prodigious effort of the Berlin air lift has carried us through the winter Time, though dearly-bought, has been gained for peace."

And most of all, Churchill said, "the spectacle of the British and Americans trying to feed the two million Germans in Berlin, while the Soviet government was trying to starve them, has been an object lesson to the German people far beyond anything that words could convey."

The former British premier said:

"I trust that small and needless provocations of German sentiment may be avoided by the western powers. The revival and union of Europe cannot be achieved without the earnest and freely-given aid of the German people."

Churchill said another question often asked—"is time on our side?"—cannot be answered "except within strict limits."

"We have certainly not an unlimited period of time before a settlement should be achieved," he said. "The utmost vigilance should be practiced but I do not think myself that violent or precipitate action should be taken now."

Pledged to Get The Farmer Out of the Mud

JEFFERSON CITY, March 31.—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith indicated today he might take his case for a gasoline tax increase to the people if the legislature turns him down.

"If the legislature refuses to increase the gas tax, it ought to be submitted to the people and give them a chance to vote on it," he said.

He told his news conference he has received thousands of letters asking for better roads. Practically all of them favor an increased tax, he reported.

A lot of them say they are willing to pay as much as eight or ten cents a gallon if they have some assurance the money would be used to take them out of the mud."

Member MVC Faculty is Club Speaker

The character of the people, the spirit of service, faith and patience were discussed as attributes in contributing to the "Hope of America," Stanley Hayden, of Marshall, told a Sedalia Kiwanis club audience meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon. He is Director of Admissions at Missouri Valley College, and was introduced by Program Chairman Robert Malone.

The speaker stressed the inter-relationship of Christianity and Democracy. He pointed out that history records the failure of nations was not caused entirely by degeneration of leadership, but in greater measure by the character of the people. He stressed the importance of developing the spirit of service and mentioned the observation of a prominent physician who said that if 60% of his patients would take their minds off themselves and do something to help others, they would be physically well.

Having faith in self and each other along with patience are other contributing factors in the development of character in the people as the ultimate hope of America.

He said the speaker was a musical program arranged by J. T. Alexander, who introduced the singers, Mrs. Frank Evans and Neal Powers, with Mrs. Henry C. Salvette, piano accompanist.

President Bert Hathaway announced there would be a meeting of the board of directors and committee chairmen at Bothwell hotel Friday noon.
